

Introducing a New Team Member

Assistance on the practical side of things

We are pleased to welcome Laetitia to the Health Angel Services team. She joined us officially the first of October.

In her role, Laetitia will support Biontology® clients and potential newcomers to the field through demonstrations, hands-on assistance where appropriate, and coordination related to instrument purchase and use. We value her willingness to engage directly with clients and newcomers and look forward to her contribution within Health Angel Services.

A Message From Laetitia Schulten

Dear practitioners, It is a pleasure to introduce myself to this community. I am Laetitia Schulten, based in Amsterdam, where I have practised as a Critical Alignment therapist for many years, working with clients experiencing chronic spinal and movement-related challenges.

This therapeutic background has given me deep insight into the body's structural and functional relationships—understanding how tension patterns develop, how the body compensates, and how alignment influences overall wellbeing. Working with the body has shown me how intricately all systems and processes interconnect, none functioning in isolation.

Biontology®, as Johan Boswinkel developed it, represents a genuinely holistic approach that naturally complemented this understanding. It revealed the body's light signalling as a complete functional system in itself—an anatomically and functionally distinct communication system that proves fundamental to our self-healing capacity.

When I first encountered Biontology®, it transformed my own health in unexpected ways—renewing my energy and restoring a balance I had not realised had diminished. As someone who had worked therapeutically with many clients, I was impressed by the depth and speed of changes that biophoton therapy could achieve, often addressing in a few sessions what had seemed persistently resistant to other approaches.

Today, Biontology® forms a central part of my practice. I work with both the Chiren® for people and the EluxR® for animal applications, witnessing daily the profound changes in clients, and when they need some biophoton support, also my family, friends, and my dog Danae.

This work has become irreplaceable in my life—as I am sure it has for many of you—transforming lives and creating a lighter, more vital way of being.

When you encounter something this significant—something that brings such profound change with such ease—you do not take it for granted. This is why I feel called to support Health Angel Services' work. Johan Boswinkel's gift to the world deserves to be protected, nurtured, and made accessible to those who need it.

Contributing to the Biontology® field is my way of giving back to something that continues to inspire my deepest appreciation. I look forward to supporting both practitioners and newcomers in practical matters, and to being part of safeguarding this remarkable field we all value so deeply.
